FOR

DEAF-BLIND CHILDREN

AND YOUTH

INTRODUCTION

In January, 1968, President Johnson signed into law Public Law 90-247, Part C, amending Title VI of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act. This law embodied the intent of Congress to provide model centers to serve deaf-blind children as early as feasible in life, and as comprehensively as the individual needs demanded.

Ten regional centers came into existence from the funding provided by this law. Of these original ten, there presently remain eight regional centers. During the last few years, eight states have chosen to serve their deaf-blind children independently and have set up state centers for this purpose.

This Directory of Services for Deaf-Blind Children and Youth in the United States and its territories is offered as an assist to professional personnel working with deaf-blind children and youth, parents and parent surrogates of deaf-blind children and youth, and significant others, and offers them pertinent contact persons, addresses, and telephone numbers within the U. S. and its territories. It is hoped this directory will become a useful guide for all who work with the deaf-blind population.

Center serves clients 16 years of age or older. Trainees receive comprehensive vocational evaluation and training. Referrals may be made by any public or private agency or interested individual.

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

Financial assistance is available through Social Security, Supplemental Security Income, and Medicare.

Social security provides disability benefits for people who are disabled before age 22, and whose handicapping conditions preclude substantial gainful work.

The Supplemental Security Income program provides cash payments to people 65 or older who have limited incomes, and to disabled people of any age. People who have been entitled to social security checks because of disability for two or more consecutive years are eligible for medicare. Families with limited income and costly medical expenses may also apply.

Contact local Social Security Administration, listed in the telephone directory under U. S. Government.
